Pär Grindvik

Aasthma, the duo of Peder Mannerfelt and Pär Grindvik (Multi P3 Guld nominated, Grammis winner, international touring DJs since 20 years) has worked with a plethora of artists ranging from Fever Ray, Smerz, Kite as well as remixes for Björk, Sara Parkman, Lykke Li and Massive Attack. Other works includes scoring for Johan Renck's HBO series The Last Panthers and feature film Red Riding Hood (starring Amanda Seyfreid and Gary Oldman).

In addition to their music production work, Aasthma has collaborated with leading brands across various industries, providing sound design and audio direction for fashion labels such as Cav Empt, eyewear designer Oscar Magnusson, and renowned Swedish perfumers Stora Skuggan.

Beyond their collaborative work, both artists have established solo careers spanning over two decades. They have toured extensively across the globe, performing at prestigious events such as Berghain, Berlin Atonal, Dark Mofo, Sónar, Movement, MUTEK, and Awakenings, among others. Their individual releases have appeared on some of the world's most respected electronic music labels.

Biography

Peder Mannerfelt and Pär Grindvik are two prominent figures in electronic music, who together form the duo Aasthma. After graduating from the class of Fever Ray's 2018 Plunge tour, Peder Mannerfelt and Pär Grindvik found themselves inexplicably drawn towards creating Aasthma as a vessel for their collaborative respiratory malaise.

Peder Mannerfelt is known for his playful and provocative style, where he often moves between different genres. He has released music under his own name and as one half of Roll the Dice, as well as produced for artists such as Fever Ray and Blonde Redhead. Pär Grindvik is a veteran of the Swedish techno scene, now based in Berlin, and respected for his solid knowledge and experience. Both have toured internationally for over 20 years and played on stages such as Berghain, Berlin Atonal, and Sónar.

Aasthma is a place where the two producers' different backgrounds and interests meet, and where they explore new soundscapes and collaborations. Their music is a mix of technicolor maximalism and Scandinavian pop, created for big stages and strong emotions.
